“ So sorry to hear about this huge loss.

Clarence was a family friend, as well as the whole Fields family.

My dad was close friends with Kevin while they both worked at OPG, and recently he got back into touch with Clarence.

They were talking on the phone not too long before Clarence passed. They both had their love for mustangs. Clarence loved my dads mustang and wanted to buy it.

This is a heartbreaking loss. We send our love.

This is a message from the Picot family.

Diego, Tanya, Maya, and little Diego send their condolences.

“ So sad to hear this...my deepest condolences to Melissa, his children and all of his family and friends. It was a pleasure working with Clarence for many years, he always made everyone smile and laugh, and would always tell stories about his family. I am including a pic of when my husband and I had our son, he was so excited to hold him. Genuinely a great guy! You will be so missed.

“ Clarence, you will be greatly missed by so many.

If you were fortunate to meet Clarence, you were his friend, we are so thankful to have had the pleasure of knowing him.

To the family, our hearts are breaking for you. May you find peace in all of the memories you have and in knowing how much he loved you. It is clear that he left a lasting imprint on so many. I remember he posted one time about the "three deaths" when he was posting about Kevin. The third death happens when people stop saying your name, when stories are no longer shared, and your name is no longer spoken. It will be generations before this happens for Clarence. He will live on, through Melissa, the kids and all that knew him. Please share stories, continue to say his name, love each other, spread kindness and smile.

Thank you Clarence just being you it was an honour to know you.

“ My sincere condolences to Melissa, the kids and Clarence’s entire family.

Although I haven’t spoken with you lately you will always hold a special spot in not only my heart but my entire family. I was so blessed to know you the way most did not. The many long car rides back and forth to Toronto were always special and the many many heart to heart conversations I will cherish forever. The many nights we had to stay away in a hotel away from our families and you always went to your room to face time your beautiful family. We had more good times than bad. You will be missed by many my friend, especially me.

I know you are at peace and hanging with Kevin. Till we meet again big C.

“ Melissa and the whole family....our hearts are aching for you all. Clarence...what a guy. He was unforgettable in so many ways. His presence was larger than life and his personality matched that. I can't say I ever seen him without a smile on his face. I always will remember our visit on your porch in Brigden when you were moving to Wallaceburg, I'll have to dig out some pictures from then. He shared so many things in his life with everyone. What a ripple he's had on so many people. Please know we are praying for you all and just ask when something comes up you need💕. Many blessings during this season. Lots of love 🤗

“ How do I count the ways you have touched my heart? How do I count the people that called you a friend? How do I count the complete strangers you helped by just your simple smile as they passed you through your days on this earth? Count the humans you connected deeply with that we're only blessed to spend a quick moment of life with you? How do I count the people in your inner circle? And you the one in theirs? How do I count the times you made a angry person laugh or a depressed person smile? How do I count the many times you have hugged someone even if you thought it may make them feel uncomfortable all because you thought they may need it in that moment? Or count the times you went out of your way to help a stranger? Or the times you have given more then you can spare to any given person in need? How Clarence? How do we ALL begin to count the times... My heart is full as I have been celebrating your life today with your family and friends. I was blessed to have known you and am blessed to call your family an extension of mine. Thank you for accepting me into your fold. I won't forget you my friend ❤️
