“ Cory was my whole world have know him since I was 21. he was my boyfriend many times. He seemed to show up in bad times in my life. The second time we showed up in my life was just after my mom passed away. and then we split up cause I had to deal with with my son that was almost life. Then 10 years later he showed up again in my life and I was in a dark spot. My son caused me a bunch of trouble. I just give up on life never left my house. I never went out with anybody for 10 years after me and Cory split up. then in March not accepted for an apartment in the same building where Cory lived we got talking. He told me how much you miss me over the years and he could see that in a long time he told me he loved me that he's always loved me that it was time for me to be happy again I didn't think that was possible. He said it was time for somebody to take care of me. Let me have a happy life that I was entitled to. He told me it was time for me to smile again. Little time I had it together I was the happiest I've been in a long time. I realize I've always loved this man. We always should've been together. I never thought this time things would end this way with us. I miss this man more than anything in this world. I just don't know. I'm gonna go on without him. I love you, baby with my whole heart and soul one day. We meet each other again. ❤️
