“ Just a quick note to express Judy and my sincere sadness at Evelyn's passing.

Evelyn's and my dad's health issues over the last few years have been trying for both our families. I know that over their 17 years of marriage they had many wonderful times together. Their love and companionship provided great comfort to both our families since most of us lived away from Wallaceburg.

Evelyn was a wonderful, caring lady whose positive attitude would always lighten a conversation. My dad is deeply saddened as we all are. Evelyn will be missed by all of the Robson family.

Our sincere condolences go out to all the Massey family.

We will be with you in Wallaceburg this weekend

“ A tribute to my grandmother:

My grandmother was also my friend and mentor and an amazing role model for me growing up. I spent a lot of time with her after school, on weekends and even one summer with her in Kingston.

My grandmother was a beautiful woman with a beautiful heart. My grandmother was gracious, patient, longsuffering, kind, loving and giving. My grandmother was strong and courageous. My grandmother was generous, selfless, family centered, thoughtful, intelligent, confident, an amazing cook, and an incredible bargain hunter! and she taught me many of these things for which I am very grateful for. Also, I found it incredible that, truly, I never heard my grandmother complain and that will always stay with me.

The greatest legacy my grandmother left me was her faith as a christian believer in Jesus. It was my grandmother's testimony of her faith that led me to my faith in Jesus and becoming a follower of His.

Many times when I was at her house she would be getting ready to go to church or a prayer meeting, or returning from having just attended.

I would ask my grandmother questions, especially about the prayer meetings and she would tell me they were awesome and that many spoke in tongues. I was intrigued by this and did not really understand, but I trusted my grandmother and so believed her. This led me on my own faith journey and to ultimately surrendering my life to Jesus and receiving Him as my Lord and Savior and receiving the free gift of salvation.

Words cannot express my gratitude to my grandmother for this legacy.

I am so grateful that the last moments we spent together were in prayer and talking about Jesus. My grandmother told me that she would not be here much longer and we acknowledged that that the next time I saw her may be in heaven and that I looked forward to seeing her there. I told my grandmother how much I loved her and how much I appreciated everything that she had done for me and that she was the best grandmother in the world to me!

I will always cherish this memory and her.
