“ I remember Ian as a nice and polite young man. When my mom was in the hospital he was in the next room and he would go visit her. She enjoyed that even if he would stay a short time. Also we would go and see her and he would always say hi wanda how you doing. It made me feel good because at that time I only had one leg and he treated me like a normal person. Tom and i are sorry for your loss and we will keep you in our thoughts and prayers.
