“ He Was My Friend. Dear Father, it is not for me to question why you called my friend Jamie home and I realize that though you give us all life with our families, we are still your children. In the short time that I knew Jamie it was friendship from the start. Through Jamie I could see your work, always giving and never asking for return. Jamie was a perfect son of yours with all the problems he had with his health he always made sure you were welcomed in his presence. I would watch many of his friends and customers come into his bait shop and even with all his hardship he could tell when someone needed a helping hand and would freely tell them "Pay me when you can". That ledger is closed with his passing and because Jamie was who he was, never expected anything in return. We who are left, console one another with the fact he is not suffering anymore, and we know he is in peace with his maker. Jamie till we meet again I will never forget you. Bob Adams
