“ John was one of the best neighbors I have ever had. On our first day of moving into Wallaceburg, he came over with his son, Dale, and helped my husband to move the refrigerator in the house, and, of course anything else that was heavy. We had never met him before. From that day on, he was always so friendly and with a smile on his face, was always there even before we knew it. The snow was always removed from the road, around the car and up the sidewalk to our front step and then to the front door. when Lyle left for work every morning during the winter. He was so helpful to us, I will never forget his kindness. My deepest sympathy goes to Eileen, Rick and Dale.
