“ It is with deep sadness that I say goodbye to one of my best friends from back in the day.
But the memories of you will stay with me from when we did things such as compete against each other to competing as a team mate. From those times when we skipped school to play pool to especially the fun time when we stole and smoked your grandfather's cigar butts then got barfy sick in the nearby cornfield.
We raced down the highschool track and jogged across country fields, through bushes, and down dirt roads to the finish line. Whether we lost or won, we were champs.
But now your spirit can also run with the wind.
Chuck Altiman.

“ Len, as one of the Hard Corps Singers, taught me some songs and got my love and interest in singing @ the drum. He was always a good good friend. I was proud of him bringing a group of young guys together to sing, later in his life. Susan, my wife and me will miss seeing him at powwows and casinos. LOL.
