“ Mary was an amazing woman. My wife, boys and I were direct neighbors with Mary on Murray street for a couple years, we had quite a bit of conversation with her over the years from over the fence about her family that she loved very much as well her late husband Don. She even came to our boys baptism. We moved away in 2012 but we see her almost every year at Halloween with the boys to say hello. We almost didn't get to see her this year because her car wasn't home, but something made me try and knock anyways and glad I did there she was happy as ever and smiling, please come in I'll make you coffee she said, but of course we were always so busy with trick or treating so we said we will make time and stay longer next time I really regret not staying and just having that coffee now, we did come in and talked a bit she was saying how she was getting older but liked to sneak in her gardening still even though it got her hurt once she laughed. Sorry this is going on so long I'm honestly blown away at the news she looked so healthy and happy that day it's unreal to think that was just over a month ago... my heart goes out to Mary's family you lost such an amazing woman. I smiled though through the sadness when I thought about her and her husband reuniting yesterday. Again sorry for your loss. Jason Courtney Brock and the boys Bryson Jase and Bowen.
