“ I have many fond memories of my big brother Pat. I cannot image the horrific experience Pat had as a young 8 year old boy afflicted with Polio and hospitalized in London for a year. The challenges he had during his life navigating various obstacles because of his paralysis. He never complained to me or did I ever hear "poor me"! He went to college and worked full time. He loved his kids, grandkids and extended family. Always interested in how everyone was. He is my hero and I miss him. Katie, Jon and Josh my sincere condolences.

Pat was the best man at my wedding. We were high school friends. I carried his books form class to class which got us out of boring classes early. Later we were roommates in college where we did a lot of stupid things.Pat loved cars at the time, the faster the better. I remember Pats grandfather could never figure out why his 1963 Dodge station wagon so often needed new brakes and tires. I will always have fond memorys of a long ago friendship John DeMars
