“ Phil is one of my best friends. We hang out once in a while and watch wrestling. We used to hang out a lot with John and I that's how we became buddies. One time we ran together in breast cancer, marathon, and he made a nice donation also. unfortunately I didn't know about his passing. I got too busy with family with my new son Lorenzo he is six now. Just today on January 26, 2024 I discovered his passing on the Internet. I was wondering why he wasn't responding to his phone call. I'm going to miss you buddy and love you forever.

“ My deepest condolences to Phil’s friends and family. Phil was a very special person.

I've known Phil since we were teenagers. We had many adventures in high school, and a few afterwards. In high school he was this funny (hilarious) guy, an athlete, dreamer, and party guy and good friend. I always thought he should have done standup. He used to do this "unknown Indian" routine. His pranks were notorious. We got into a lot of trouble together and with our friends. He was usually my partner on the wrestling team, before they decided to kick us girls off. I was small, and he delighted in getting me in a hold and rolling all the way across the mats until I was going to throw up. We used to do this on the big hill at school too. It drove Mr. Howe crazy because we couldn't stop laughing and were constantly goofing around. We also had a lot of fun in our drama class. After high school, we lost touch, as you do.

I reconnected with Phil back in the early 2000s when he bought a computer from me. He seemed like the same old Phil. I did some training with him, and then I got him involved in a couple of our theatre productions - he was good. Phil was a kind, sweet, generous person. He was proud of his indigenous heritage, and I learned a lot from him. Phil, you always had, and will always have a special place in my heart.

Fly free and rest well Phil, I hope you found peace.

RIP my dear old friend.

“ My sincere condolences to the family and friends of Phil. He was a kind man with a great sense of humour. Indians in the city always seem to gravitate to one another, as was the case with me crossing paths with Phil in Toronto sometimes. He was quite a character, with a zest for life. Chi miigwech Phil for your kind spirit. Travel well onto the next world. Chi miigwech for the laughs
