“ So sorry to hear of your loss, I can fondly remember the practical jokes that Spenser would play on us as children when you lived on Dundas Street and tasting his Apple Cider that he would make in the fall each year, many pleasureable memories. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all at this time

“ *Spencer,
Every time I hear " when I woke up this morning I was still breathing" I will always think of you, I never called that you did not say that to me.
We know he is at peace and at rest. Blessings

“ *If you spent any time with Grandpa Rutter, you'll recognize this...
.....This burglar looked all around the room-
He saw no place to scoot.
He thought of the teeth and the old glass eye,
And said, "Madam, for the Heaven sake SHOOT!"*

Thanks for sharing that Adam. Among all of Granpa's little stories he would tell, that one was my favourite.

“ *Spencer will be missed at every special function at Fairfield. He made every event special with a silly song (that he knew every word for) and his harmonica tucked in for good measure. What wonderful memories your family will have of his humor!
